University Information Sheet

Part A:

A.1- Brief description of your university: (history, main activities, number of students, courses offered, etc).

The University of Carthage is a Tunisian public institution dedicated to education and research and is part of the Ministry of Higher Education and Scientific Research. Founded in 1988 by Law # 83-1987 dated December 31, 1987, under the name of the University of Law, Economics, and Management Tunis III, it became in 2000 the University of Carthage, and this within the context of restructuring the various specialized universities in the Tunis area into multidisciplinary Universities. Presently, the University of Carthage includes 33 establishments of higher education and research, including the Polytechnic School of Tunisia, a top pole of excellence, and the country's oldest school of engineers, namely the National Institute of Agronomy of Tunis, which founded on October 28, 1898 .

The various member institutions of the University of Carthage offer education and research programs in a wide array of disciplines and sub-disciplines in the sciences and humanities , such as engineering law , economics , management , computer sciences , social sciences , letters , languages , art and pedagogy of young learners.

For the academic year 2012-2013, the number of registered students at the University of Carthage will be around 47438 students, who will be benefiting from continuously updated educational syllabi and taking advantage of opportunities to improve their scientific and technological knowledge as well as exercise their creativity and capacity for innovation. Through a number of productive partnership and cooperation agreements both at the local and international levels, the university is well integrated in its national and international socio-economic and cultural environments.
